

Fiber.Love.Retreat. Packing List

Check in at the main lodge on Thursday is from 4:00 to 9:00.

Dinner from 6:30-7:30 to allow for travel time.

The weather looks to be pleasant during the days and brisk in the evenings. Check the weather here

Personal Items:

- PAJAMAS FOR THE FRIDAY NIGHT PAJAMA PARTY/FRIDAY NIGHT MARKET, WHOOO HOOOO! That's right, the Friday market will be from 6:30-9:30 Friday night
- Clothes, toiletries, medications
- A coat, sweater or sweatshirt for cooler mountain evenings
- Rain gear, just in case!
- Medical devices (such as a CPAP... if you want your roomies to like you in the morning)
- Ear plugs if you're a light sleeper
- Appropriate shoes for the terrain
- A robe if you are in the dorms
- Swimsuit if you plan on taking a dip in the lake. (Camp Ida-Haven requests no bikinis) The weather might be chilly, so if you do plan on participating in lake activities you might want to bring a wet suit.
- Kayak, paddle board or canoe (the camp will also have available water craft). Life Jackets and whistles must be worn while on the water. There is no lifeguard on duty.

Camp Essentials:

- Sheets/sleeping bag/pillows (if you are staying in the dorm or a cabin. All other accommodations have linens)
- Padding for your mattress (optional, but definitely suggested). These beds are for young and hearty summer campers, so you may want some extra padding!
- Towel (if you are staying in the dorm or a cabin)
- A personal fan if the heat bothers you, or you need white noise to sleep
- Sunscreen
- Mosquito repellent
- Shower shoes
- Flashlight for walking at night

- A worklight for night-time crafting on the deck or your cabin porch. Please, be kind and don't blind people with your headlamp!
- A refillable water bottle. Please consider leaving single use plastics at home.
- A household extension cord for charging electronics in your room or cabin (work this out with your roomies, not everyone has to bring one)
- A cooler for your beverages. (non-alcoholic, please). Coolers can stay on cabin porches or the balcony of the main lodge for the dorm dwellers
- Camp chair (optional, but you're gonna want yours)
- An umbrella or shelter for shade on the beach (optional)
- If you are in a motel room or the gatekeeper's house, something of value to secure your key (We get charged $50 for lost keys)

Retreat Essentials

- Your projects!
- Homework for your workshops
- Materials fees for your workshop. CASH ONLY. Please bring exact change. Facilitators will not have time to make change or run electronic payments.
- Your MAL or other fiber crafted item to wear during our group photo
- A reusable shopping bag for your Vendor Market treasures.

Optional

- Cash for the camp staff "Love Gift."
- Treats for the snack table (There will be regular and GF snack tables clearly labeled both in the main lodge and Cabin 5)
- Yarn and supplies you are ready to rehome for the "Free to a Good Home" table.
- Items you want to sell in the Used Equipment Sale

DO NOT BRING

- Pets
- Firearms/Fireworks
- Weapons of any kind
- Illegal substances (marijuana is illegal in all forms in Idaho)
- Your itsy-bitsy-teeny-weeny-yellow-polka dot-bikini!
- Perfumes or heavily-scented items. Many people are sensitive.

We'll see you soon!
